SAVE THE DATE

A conference sponsored by The Archdiocese of Cincinnati Catholic Schools Office and
The Xavier University Center for Catholic Education

THE POWER OF A PROFESSIONAL LEARNING COMMUNITY
a focus on learning rather than teaching

April 30th and May 1st 2013
8:30 am - 3:30 pm
at Xavier University

Priority Registration November 26 - December 7, 2012
Open Registration Begins January 7, 2013 (space permitting)
registration details to follow

Cost: $200 per delegate
(includes conference, materials, parking, and meals)

THE PRESENTERS

Rebecca DuFour
Rebecca DuFour has served as a teacher, school administrator, and central office coordinator. As a former elementary principal, Becky helped her school earn state and national recognition as a model professional learning community. She is one of the featured principals in the Video Journal of Education program “Leadership in an Age of Standards and High Stakes.” She is also the lead consultant and featured principal for the Video Journal of Education program “Elementary Principals as Leaders of Learning.” Becky is coauthor of many books and video series on the topic of PLCs.

Richard DuFour
Richard DuFour, EdD, was a public school educator for 34 years, serving as a teacher, principal, and superintendent. He served as the principal of Adlai E. Stevenson High School in Lincolnshire, Illinois, from 1983 to 1991 and as superintendent of the district from 1991 to 2002. During his tenure, Stevenson became what the United States Department of Education (USDE) has described as “the most recognized and celebrated school in America.” It is one of three schools in the nation to win the USDE Blue Ribbon Award on four occasions and one of the first comprehensive schools designated a New America High School by USDE as a model of successful school reform. Stevenson has been repeatedly cited in the popular press as one of America’s best schools and referenced in professional literature as an exemplar of best practices in education.