

Digital Space @XU Submission Permission Form & License

Introduction

Use this form to grant permission for the Digital Collections Team to submit your material to Xavier University's digital institutional repository, Digital Space@XU. Authors who submit materials to the digital repository must agree to the license (page 3) included with this form. This limited, non-exclusive license confirms that you have the rights to deposit these works into Digital Space@XU. It gives Xavier University permission to post them openly on the Web and to take the necessary steps to preserve them. Once granted, you cannot rescind your permission for Xavier University to make accessible and preserve these works.

Under this agreement between you and Xavier University, you retain all rights you had to these items before they were deposited, such as making copies available on other web sites or publishing them in the same form or in a revised form, without obtaining permission from Xavier University. NOTE: Depositing your work into Digital Space@XU may limit your ability to subsequently publish it. Authors who may want to submit their work for subsequent publication are advised to check publishers' pre-publication requirements.

By default, all items in Digital Space@XU are protected by copyright, with all rights reserved for the copyright holder. As an alternative to reserving all rights, you are encouraged to consider licensing your work under a Creative Commons License, under which you can preserve rights important to you (e.g., proper attribution,) and at the same time explicitly grant certain rights that you choose to readers (e.g., copy, distribute, display, or perform the work.). Documents in Digital Space@XU that are licensed under Creative Commons licenses will display the license conditions with the item. <http://creativecommons.org/license/>
