

REMARKABLE FAMILIES

building resiliency among families raising children with disabilities

A CHANCE TO NETWORK

Xavier University and the College of Social Sciences, Health, and Education are offering a symposium for Tri-state parents who are raising children with special needs.

The purpose of this symposium is to provide parents the opportunity to learn to not only survive—but to thrive.

THE DAY INCLUDES

- JONATHAN MOONEY- The leading voice in disability rights and advocacy. He looks at disability as a civil rights issue not just an educational issue. A very passionate and inspiring speaker.
- BARBARA HUNTER- From the internationally renowned Springer School in Cincinnati, Ohio.
- JOAN HOXSEY- She is with us again this year to help us learn to use the information gained from taking the VIA Personal Strengths Survey (www.viacharacter.org) to become more resilient parents.

RESOURCES

- For more information on JONATHAN MOONEY, check out his web site: www.jonathanmooney.com
- This year, we encourage you to take a personal strength survey at www.viacharacter.org. A presenter will be available to analyze your results during the workshop.
