

Information Fluency may be envisioned as the optimal outcome when critical thinking skills are combined with information literacy and relevant computing skills.

From the "Working Statement of Information Fluency" developed by the Associated Colleges of the South

