

Alter Hall - Architectural Award

The recent Alter Hall transformation was featured in the Learning By Design magazine's Spring 2016 Architectural Awards Showcase issue as a Grand Prize winner in the College/University category. This is a juried award showcasing the most effective learning spaces from across North America. Projects are evaluated for being functionally designed to meet the educational program, supporting and enhancing 21st century learning, reflecting the needs of the community it supports, for innovation in architecture and interior design, and by helping to reduce the carbon footprint through the adoption of sustainable design measures. Visit the Grand Prize Award link here to read more.