A. REASON FOR POLICY

The University is committed to promoting and providing an accessible, safe, open, environment conducive for living, learning and working for our students, faculty, staff and guests. The Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA) and Americans With Disabilities Act Amendments of 2008 (Amendments Act) and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 as Amended in 2008 (Section 504) are federal laws applicable to private universities in the United States that set forth certain expectations and requirements for promoting accessibility to facilities, education, employment and experiences at the University.

Federal legislation requires the University to have clear and well communicated anti-discrimination policies as well as processes in place through which students, faculty, staff and guests may resolve grievances with the University.

The purpose of this Policy is to provide guidance to the University Community about certain duties, rights and responsibilities they may have in connection with ADA, the Amendments Act and Section 504.

B. POLICY

Xavier University is committed to achieving compliance with the applicable requirements of the ADA, the Amendments Act and Section 504. This policy is intended to inform and guide members of the University Community concerning duties, rights and responsibilities they or Xavier may have with regard to these laws.

This policy will be reviewed and revised no less than annually to take into account changes in applicable law, feedback from annual University department reviews and reports,

A. Laws and Related University Policies

a) ADA: The Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 and The Americans with Disabilities Amendments Act of 2008 (Amendments Act) are referred to collectively from this point forward in the Policy as “The Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990” or “ADA”.

The ADA prohibits discrimination solely on the basis of disability in employment, public services, and accommodations. The person must be otherwise qualified for the program, service, or job.

The ADA and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 as Amended hold that an individual with a disability is defined as a person who: (1) has a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more life activities; or (2) has a record of such impairment; or (3) is regarded as having such impairment. Major life activities include but are not limited to walking, seeing, hearing, speaking, breathing, learning, working, caring for oneself, and performing manual tasks.

The ADA details administrative requirements, grievance procedures, and the consequences for non-compliance related to both services and employment. The ADA also requires provision of reasonable and effective accommodation for eligible students across educational activities and settings.

“Reasonable and effective” may not always mean “best” accommodations. The University is permitted to consider the content of academic programs, undue administrative burden and undue financial burden in the accommodation assessment process. The University may provide a reasonable and effective accommodation.

b) Section 504: Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 As Amended 2008 (hereinafter “Section 504”)

In 2008, Section 504 of The Rehabilitation Act of 1973 was amended through a conforming amendment to ADA through which Congress intended to align the definition of disability between the two federal laws (set forth in Section II, A. a) of this Policy).

Section 504 prohibits discrimination on the basis of disability in programs, public and private, that receive federal financial assistance.

c) Confidentiality

All Xavier employees have an obligation to maintain confidentiality regarding disability-related information about students, staff, applicants for employment or admission, and members of the public. Accordingly, information may be exchanged between employees only when necessary to facilitate the provision of accommodations or resolution of grievances.

While employees may not ask individuals to identify as having a disability, they can and should offer resource information as a general practice. Once an individual has disclosed a disability to an employee, that employee is free to discuss the disability further with the individual in a confidential setting to facilitate appropriate access for the individual.

d) Academic Advising

Employees who engage in academic advising/counseling for students should offer all students they advise/counsel information about the academic support resources available in the Office of Disability Services.
e) Retaliation

Retaliation is expressly prohibited by both the ADA and Section 504 and is expressly prohibited for members of the University Community and by this Policy:

Neither the University nor any person acting on its behalf shall discriminate against any individual because that individual has requested an accommodation or opposed any unlawful act or practice (under ADA or Section 504), or because that individual made a charge, testified, assisted, or participated in any manner in an investigation, proceeding, or hearing (under ADA or Section 504).

Neither the University nor any person acting on its behalf shall coerce, intimidate, threaten, retaliate against, or interfere with any individual in the exercise or enjoyment of, or on account of his or her having exercised or enjoyed, or on account of his or her having aided or encouraged any other individual in the exercise or enjoyment of, any right granted or protected by the ADA or Section 504.

D. ADA/504 Grievance Process

a) Purpose of the Process

i. Xavier’s internal ADA/504 Grievance Process is designed to address grievances that arise in connection with disability access and accommodation in the campus community in a timely manner once the complaining party has exhausted the resources outlined in section C. I., of this Policy. The University generally views sixty (60) days from the time of the filing of a grievance with the Affirmative Action Officer to the time of final resolution as a reasonable time frame for resolving ADA/504 matters.

ii. Time limits: All time limits in this policy are intended to assist in resolving matters as promptly as is reasonable under the circumstances. Any time frame requirements can be expanded or contracted by the Affirmative Action Officer (or deputy) due to a number of factors including but not limited the complexity of the matter, the availability of witnesses or evidence, or the time in the school year when the investigation takes place. Extensions may also be made upon written agreement of all parties.

iii. Individuals always have the right to bypass the University’s ADA/504 Grievance Process in whole or in part, at their sole discretion, by complaining directly to state and/or federal agencies which are fully described in Section II, E. of this Policy. Individuals also have the right to file suit in federal court to have their complaints heard.
iv. Grievances regarding harassment are governed by the HCAP and the Student Handbook. (As noted in Section II, A. (f) of this Policy); Grievances of harassment based on sex are governed by the Title IX Process (as noted in Section. II. A. (f), of this Policy). In the event a grievance contains more than one type of harassment/discrimination, the Affirmative Action Officer (or deputy) will engage in consultation with the appropriate parties to ensure the grievant is best served in a timely manner and the University remains in compliance with all applicable laws. In the event a Title IX issue is present, the Title IX Coordinator will work closely with the Affirmative Action Officer and the grievant to ensure the grievant is fully aware of his/her Title IX rights and options.

v. The ADA/504 Grievance Process provides both formal and informal paths for resolution of grievances. A grievant has full discretion to initiate either the Informal Process or the Formal Process by filing a written grievance with the Affirmative Action Officer.

vi. Grievance: For purposes of this policy, grievance shall mean any complaint related to accessibility for persons with disabilities.

v. The Affirmative Action Officer (or deputy) will be available to consult with the grievant about methods to articulate the basis of the grievance.

The Affirmative Action Officer (or deputy) will inquire further by gathering information from appropriate parties. Generally, the University views a reasonable time to complete this step as fifteen (15) business days following receipt of the written complaint.

vi. The Affirmative Action Officer (or deputy) will collaborate with the appropriate members of the University Community to clarify policies and procedures, enhance communications and understanding, and facilitate a timely resolution but in no case more than sixty (60) days after the filing of the Grievance unless all parties agree, in writing, to extend the time period.

vii. The Affirmative Action Officer (or deputy) will follow up to ensure the resolution has been implemented as agreed and in a timely and satisfactory manner.

viii. In the event a grievant does not believe his/her grievance has been satisfactorily resolved through the Informal Process, he/she may utilize the Formal Process.

d) Formal Process

i. This process is designed to achieve resolution of a grievance through a formal investigation and hearing.

b) A grievant may choose to utilize the Formal Process and completely bypass the Informal Process at his/her sole discretion.

ii. This process will be used to determine whether a violation of policy has occurred;

v. A grievance is made by contacting the Affirmative Action Officer (or deputy).

vi. A grievance should be in writing and contain information about the alleged discrimination such as name, address, phone number of person making the grievance and location, date, and description of the matter.
