A survivor of domestic abuse, Beverly Gooden created the trending topic #WhyIStayed in the wake of the Ray Rice assault story when she found so many comments on social media victim blaming his fiancée about why she chose to stay. Dedicated to elevating the conversation about intimate partner violence and to educate others about the complexities of abuse and violence, Beverly is coming to share her story and talk about the realities and warning signs of dating violence on college campuses today. Her story has been profiled on Good Morning America, CNN, TIME, The Washington Post, and Inside Edition.
