The 2019-2020 Winter-Cohen Family/Brueggeman Fellows have been chosen.

The students will engage in a year of independent research followed by an immersion/research trip. They will also participate in an interdisciplinary learning community at the Center for the entire academic year. The Fellows are a diverse group, representing all three colleges at Xavier.

The new Brueggeman Fellows are:

Grant Baker, Class of 2021
PPP/Philosophy, Politics and the Public Major
The Socioeconomics of Central Europe: An Applied Approach to Re-integrating the Korean Peninsula
Immersion/Research Trip: Central Europe

Kinzie Baker, Class of 2020
Nursing & Spanish Major
Enhancing Community Health Outcomes in Guatemala
Immersion/Research Trip: Guatemala

Ayarri Moore, Graduate
Private Interest and Public Good
Opportunity Gap of Black Students: A Comparison of American and African Education
Immersion/Research Trip: Zimbabwe, Nigeria, Ethiopia

Sofia Ordonez, Class of 2020
English Major
Literature as Consciousness, Consciousness as Literature
Immersion/Research Trip: Portugal, France, Italy

Melissa Quinones, Class of 2021
Sustainability Major
Ecotourism in Coastal Areas
Immersion/Research Trip: Cuba

Mary Schoen, Class of 2020
Occupational Therapy Major
The Power of Mindfulness
Immersion/Research Trip: Nepal

Grayson Walker, Class of 2021
PPP/Philosophy, Politics and the Public Major
Uneven Development in the Periphery
Immersion/Research Trip: Nepal, China

Britany Wells, Class of 2021
Montessori Education Major
Montessori in Nepal: Cultural, Structural, Financial Variations in Comparison to the United States
Immersion/Research Trip: Nepal