Good morning, colleagues.

As promised yesterday, in an effort to provide you with up-to-date information, this morning we present two workshops that have been scheduled to help faculty with Canvas, videoconferencing and video options, and strategies for teaching remotely. Sessions are listed below and a more detailed session description is available on the Instructional Continuity website.

Workshops and Drop-in Consultations

- Virtual Drop-in Consultations
  - March 12: 10:00 am, 11:00 am, 12:00 pm, 4:00 pm
  - March 13: 10:00 am, 11:00 am, 12:00 pm

- Workshop: Canvas Essentials
  - March 12: 2:00 pm

- Workshop: Videoconferencing and video options, Canvas, and strategies for teaching remotely
  - March 13: 1:00 pm

Visit the CTE website for more details and instructions for applying.

As a valuable resource for faculty, here is a summary of workshops and drop-in consultations offered this March:

- Cancelled: Michelle Miller Workshop and Drop-in Consultations
  - March 12: 12:00 pm, 1:00 pm, 4:00 pm
  - March 13: 10:00 am, 12:00 pm

- Cancelled: Michelle Miller Workshop and Drop-in Consultations
  - March 12: 12:00 pm, 1:00 pm, 4:00 pm
  - March 13: 10:00 am, 12:00 pm

In an effort to address common concerns and to keep faculty as up-to-date as possible, a new FAQ page has been added to the Instructional Continuity website. This page provides answers to frequently asked questions and directed towards self-paced learning. The questions and responses to common questions will continue to be updated regularly.

In addition to defining the FLC topic, facilitators support the FLC by sharing resources, tips, and strategies, I will be sending out more frequent CTE newsletters. Today I want to quickly draw your attention to two ways we are trying to support you.

The keynote presentation and workshops with Michelle Miller have been cancelled. We are hopeful that we will be able to reschedule.

Frequently Asked Questions Added to Instructional Continuity Website

If you have questions and responses regularly. We will continue to update the Workshop: Canvas Essentials. You will find information for your instructional continuity plan and, as an added bonus, give you and your students the chance to practice using quizzes in Canvas. You will find a list of workshops and drop-in consultations on the Instructional Continuity website. Sessions being offered this week are listed below.

CTE Faculty Associate Applications

CTE Faculty Associate Applications for the 2020 Fall Faculty Associate and Speaker and Workshops, and other regularly scheduled fall programs such as book groups and brownbag discussions. The Spring Faculty Associate Call for Faculty Learning Community (FLC) Proposals.

Visit the CTE website for more details and instructions for applying.

- Cancelled: Michelle Miller Workshop and Drop-in Consultations
  - March 12: 12:00 pm, 1:00 pm, 4:00 pm
  - March 13: 10:00 am, 12:00 pm

- Cancelled: Michelle Miller Workshop and Drop-in Consultations
  - March 12: 12:00 pm, 1:00 pm, 4:00 pm
  - March 13: 10:00 am, 12:00 pm

In an effort to address common concerns and to keep faculty as up-to-date as possible, a new FAQ page has been added to the Instructional Continuity website. This page provides answers to frequently asked questions and directed towards self-paced learning. The questions and responses to common questions will continue to be updated regularly.

In addition to defining the FLC topic, facilitators support the FLC by sharing resources, tips, and strategies, I will be sending out more frequent CTE newsletters. Today I want to quickly draw your attention to two ways we are trying to support you.

The keynote presentation and workshops with Michelle Miller have been cancelled. We are hopeful that we will be able to reschedule.

Frequently Asked Questions Added to Instructional Continuity Website

If you have questions and responses regularly. We will continue to update the Workshop: Canvas Essentials. You will find information for your instructional continuity plan and, as an added bonus, give you and your students the chance to practice using quizzes in Canvas. You will find a list of workshops and drop-in consultations on the Instructional Continuity website. Sessions being offered this week are listed below.

CTE Faculty Associate Applications

CTE Faculty Associate Applications for the 2020 Fall Faculty Associate and Speaker and Workshops, and other regularly scheduled fall programs such as book groups and brownbag discussions. The Spring Faculty Associate Call for Faculty Learning Community (FLC) Proposals.

Visit the CTE website for more details and instructions for applying.

- Cancelled: Michelle Miller Workshop and Drop-in Consultations
  - March 12: 12:00 pm, 1:00 pm, 4:00 pm
  - March 13: 10:00 am, 12:00 pm

- Cancelled: Michelle Miller Workshop and Drop-in Consultations
  - March 12: 12:00 pm, 1:00 pm, 4:00 pm
  - March 13: 10:00 am, 12:00 pm

In an effort to address common concerns and to keep faculty as up-to-date as possible, a new FAQ page has been added to the Instructional Continuity website. This page provides answers to frequently asked questions and directed towards self-paced learning. The questions and responses to common questions will continue to be updated regularly.

In addition to defining the FLC topic, facilitators support the FLC by sharing resources, tips, and strategies, I will be sending out more frequent CTE newsletters. Today I want to quickly draw your attention to two ways we are trying to support you.

The keynote presentation and workshops with Michelle Miller have been cancelled. We are hopeful that we will be able to reschedule.

Frequently Asked Questions Added to Instructional Continuity Website

If you have questions and responses regularly. We will continue to update the Workshop: Canvas Essentials. You will find information for your instructional continuity plan and, as an added bonus, give you and your students the chance to practice using quizzes in Canvas. You will find a list of workshops and drop-in consultations on the Instructional Continuity website. Sessions being offered this week are listed below.

CTE Faculty Associate Applications

CTE Faculty Associate Applications for the 2020 Fall Faculty Associate and Speaker and Workshops, and other regularly scheduled fall programs such as book groups and brownbag discussions. The Spring Faculty Associate Call for Faculty Learning Community (FLC) Proposals.

Visit the CTE website for more details and instructions for applying.

- Cancelled: Michelle Miller Workshop and Drop-in Consultations
  - March 12: 12:00 pm, 1:00 pm, 4:00 pm
  - March 13: 10:00 am, 12:00 pm

- Cancelled: Michelle Miller Workshop and Drop-in Consultations
  - March 12: 12:00 pm, 1:00 pm, 4:00 pm
  - March 13: 10:00 am, 12:00 pm

In an effort to address common concerns and to keep faculty as up-to-date as possible, a new FAQ page has been added to the Instructional Continuity website. This page provides answers to frequently asked questions and directed towards self-paced learning. The questions and responses to common questions will continue to be updated regularly.

In addition to defining the FLC topic, facilitators support the FLC by sharing resources, tips, and strategies, I will be sending out more frequent CTE newsletters. Today I want to quickly draw your attention to two ways we are trying to support you.

The keynote presentation and workshops with Michelle Miller have been cancelled. We are hopeful that we will be able to reschedule.

Frequently Asked Questions Added to Instructional Continuity Website

If you have questions and responses regularly. We will continue to update the Workshop: Canvas Essentials. You will find information for your instructional continuity plan and, as an added bonus, give you and your students the chance to practice using quizzes in Canvas. You will find a list of workshops and drop-in consultations on the Instructional Continuity website. Sessions being offered this week are listed below.

CTE Faculty Associate Applications

CTE Faculty Associate Applications for the 2020 Fall Faculty Associate and Speaker and Workshops, and other regularly scheduled fall programs such as book groups and brownbag discussions. The Spring Faculty Associate Call for Faculty Learning Community (FLC) Proposals.

Visit the CTE website for more details and instructions for applying.

- Cancelled: Michelle Miller Workshop and Drop-in Consultations
  - March 12: 12:00 pm, 1:00 pm, 4:00 pm
  - March 13: 10:00 am, 12:00 pm

- Cancelled: Michelle Miller Workshop and Drop-in Consultations
  - March 12: 12:00 pm, 1:00 pm, 4:00 pm
  - March 13: 10:00 am, 12:00 pm

In an effort to address common concerns and to keep faculty as up-to-date as possible, a new FAQ page has been added to the Instructional Continuity website. This page provides answers to frequently asked questions and directed towards self-paced learning. The questions and responses to common questions will continue to be updated regularly.

In addition to defining the FLC topic, facilitators support the FLC by sharing resources, tips, and strategies, I will be sending out more frequent CTE newsletters. Today I want to quickly draw your attention to two ways we are trying to support you.

The keynote presentation and workshops with Michelle Miller have been cancelled. We are hopeful that we will be able to reschedule.