Hello, colleagues.

As Xavier is moving to working remotely, I want to assure you that staff in Instructional Continuity are here to help you in any way you need. You can reach Sharon Blake, MA, Administrative Assistant, CTE and IRB, or Kandi Stinson, PhD, CTE Faculty Director and Professor of Sociology, at cte@xavier.edu.

For questions about any of these events, please contact them directly.

This week will focus on the administrative aspects of online teaching. You will learn how to create and organize your course on Canvas, how to create and grade quizzes, and how to use SpeedGrader for feedback. You will also learn about academic honesty and how to use Turnitin.

On Monday, you will learn how to use the Instructional Continuity website to create and organize your course. You will learn about the Canvas gradebook and SpeedGrader. On Tuesday, you will learn about academic honesty and using Turnitin. On Wednesday, you will learn about Proctoring and Turnitin.

On Thursday and Friday, you will learn about student interaction and the use of Zoom and Big Blue Button. You will also learn about how to use Canvas for teaching remotely.

For more information, you can visit the Instructional Continuity website or contact Sharon or Kandi directly.

We hope to see you online this week!

The Xavier University Library

In the coming weeks, librarians will be available to help you find electronic resources, including educational streaming services, such as Kanopy or Films on Demand. You can also access OhioLink materials through the Connection Center. If you need reference support, you can visit the Conaton Learning Commons building, though the building will close at 5:00 p.m. on Friday, March 20.

For more information, you can visit the Instructional Continuity website or contact Sharon or Kandi directly.

We hope to see you online this week!
