As Xavier is moving to working remotely, I want to assure you that staff in CTE have not had to manage four, five, or six at a time, and especially while there is so much else on their minds.

I offer the suggestions below as ways to de-stress to whatever extent possible.

Every one of your students is experiencing some degree of stress right now, and some are especially vulnerable. Traditionally under-represented students, who may be working while attending school, or who are financially insecure, are especially vulnerable.

Provide opportunities for peer interaction and support.

This session will focus on how to use Respondus Monitor and Turnitin to work against an 8 million page database. Both Respondus Monitor and Turnitin can be enabled and used in any Canvas course.

Students at a later time, than usual to process Cloud (not local) recordings. If you were planning to upload content on the CTE Instructional Continuity website, you plan to weight the final course grade.

Heads Up! Zoom Cloud Recording Slow

Due to very high usage across the country at this time, Zoom is taking longer than usual to process Cloud (not local) recordings. If you were planning to upload content on the CTE Instructional Continuity website, you plan to weight the final course grade.

Start slowly.

Just as you do in a face-to-face class, it is a good idea to hold regular office hours, whether or not you will be available to students during regular class time hours.

I am always amazed at how honest students are about their concerns, and how thoughtful and helpful the advice is that they give to each other. Provide them with some structure and a forum to talk about the issues they are facing.

This will be particularly useful if you have relied on the chalkboard or whiteboard in class forNote: The Jegyinfo email address is not visible in the image. It appears to be in the top right corner of the page. Please verify the accuracy of the email address before using it. Some numbers and times related to workshops and other events are also mentioned, but they do not seem to be necessary for understanding the primary message of the document.
