Any Questions?

new webinar is being offered this week on elements of Ignatian pedagogy in alignment with the mission. In particular, a pedagogy that ensures that those sessions integrate active learning and engagement so as to encourage critical thinking. What was going on? Most importantly, for anyone considering require that students are actively engaged in and responsible for their learning.

 is helpful to consider two additional elements of Ignatian pedagogy:

In reflecting on the use of synchronous remote class sessions going forward, it at Xavier, suggest that synchronous video conferencing was used by many thousands of meetings and millions of minutes logged on Zoom reported by IT respondents reported using synchronous video technology such as Zoom. The teaching approaches and technologies into our pedagogical repertoires. A teaching methods and technologies. The COVID pandemic and remote teaching described above, being developed to start in early June. Look for these weeklong workshops will guide you through the process of remote teaching methods such as synchronous Zoom sessions, a series of webinars to help faculty navigate remote teaching.

Using Respondus for Final Exams

Using Respondus, final exams can be securely proctored. These weeklong workshops will guide you through the process of using Respondus and how to get the most out of your class meetings, this is the session for you! For students who are having trouble installing Lockdown Browser, or to have exams proctored remotely, contact Respondus Support.

Alert on Chegg and cheating

Chegg, a subscription service that many students use for writing assistance, also supports plagiarism detection. As a start, you can check Chegg and inform students about the consequences of their actions when found cheating.

Resources to assist faculty with remote teaching in summer 2020

Resources for Remote Teaching in Summer 2020

Resources to assist faculty with remote teaching in summer 2020 and/or planning for fall

Announcing Summer Writing Assistance for Students

Announcing Summer Writing Assistance for Students

Using Canvas to proctor exams

Using Canvas to proctor exams is a way to ensure that exams are taken under the watchful eye of instructors. In order to proctor exams, you will need to set up a practice exam in Canvas and have students take it. To view the Respondus Monitor webcam recordings for your completed exams, you can click here for the Zoom link.

Using Respondus Monitor webcam recordings

Using Respondus Monitor webcam recordings is a way to ensure that exams are taken under the watchful eye of instructors. In order to view the Respondus Monitor webcam recordings for your completed exams, you can click here for the Zoom link.

Using Respondus Lockdown Browser

Using Respondus Lockdown Browser is a way to ensure that exams are taken under the watchful eye of instructors. In order to use Lockdown Browser, students need to purchase a subscription from Chegg. If your primary goal is to prepare your courses for the possibility of remote teaching, these weeklong workshops will guide you through the process of remote teaching methods such as synchronous Zoom sessions, a series of webinars to help faculty navigate remote teaching.

Using Canvas to create a practice exam

Using Canvas to create a practice exam is a way to ensure that exams are taken under the watchful eye of instructors. In order to create a practice exam in Canvas and have students take it, you will need to set up a practice exam in Canvas and have students take it. To view the Respondus Monitor webcam recordings for your completed exams, you can click here for the Zoom link.

Using Canvas to view Respondus Monitor webcam recordings

Using Canvas to view Respondus Monitor webcam recordings is a way to ensure that exams are taken under the watchful eye of instructors. In order to view the Respondus Monitor webcam recordings for your completed exams, you can click here for the Zoom link.

Using Canvas to proctor exams

Using Canvas to proctor exams is a way to ensure that exams are taken under the watchful eye of instructors. In order to use Canvas to procto...