This course is an introduction to the comparative study of Buddhism and Christianity. The aims are:
1) to introduce the essential teachings and practices of the Buddhist (Mainstream and Mahayana) and Christian traditions; 2) to compare their respective theories and practices concerning contemplation/meditation; the ecological crisis; race, gender, and class; and violence and reconciliation.

When: Tuesdays, August 24 - December 18, 2020

Where: Xavier University

Time: 6:00-8:30 p.m.

Josie: A 3-hour graduate-level class or this course can be taken as a non-credit workshop.

Start the registration process online at www.xavier.edu/issj

Join the conversation…For more information, please call 513-745-2894