Pathway to a Management Minor

For Non-Business Majors

You're already working to be an expert in your major field. Augment your expertise with management skills valuable to all employees.

Studying management gives you the big picture view of organizations. Make yourself more marketable after graduation by adding a management minor with only 12 credits.

Learn How To:

1. Create strategies to move organizations forward.
2. Cast a vision and organize employees behind it.
3. Lead and motivate employees to reach their full potential.
4. Run successful projects to achieve company goals.
5. Manage conflict within and outside the organization.
6. Negotiate with customers and suppliers for best organization outcomes.

What's Required?

1. Take MGMT200 Organizational Management as soon as possible. You can do that as early as your Freshman year!
2. Choose three classes from courses like:
 - MGMT312 – Negotiation and Conflict Management
 - MGMT314 – Leadership
 - MGMT325 – International Management
 - MGMT333 - Global Supply Chain
 - MGMT334 – Managerial Decision Making
 - MGMT385 – Project Management
