DEPARTMENT OF OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY

HOCS 405 Occupational Justice II
Course Syllabus
Summer 2017

Course Credit: 3.0        Course Time: TBA        Course Location: Guatemala, online, campus
Faculty: Carol R. Scheerer, EdD, OTR/L    Telephone: 745-3310    Faculty Office: Cohen 41
E-mail: scheerer@xavier.edu    Office Hours: As needed by confirmed appointment

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

Implementation of previously planned service learning project constructed in HOCS 325 Occupational Justice I. Service learning hours are conducted internationally. Through participation in service learning hours, learning via self-generated objectives, discussion, and personal/group reflection, students will continue to build an understanding of issues of justice and occupational patterns in the construction of life meaning. In-depth study of occupational justice theory in relationship to international communities is supported. Responsible civic engagement and relationship to future career as an occupational therapist will be explored. The independent study nature of this course requires student responsibility for meeting self-identified service and learning objectives.

RELATIONSHIP TO INSTITUTIONAL MISSION:

- Challenges students intellectually, morally and spiritually
- Explores concepts of culture and diversity
- Promotes creative and authentic learning opportunities
- Engages in service learning with local or international organizations and communities
- Stimulates critical thinking
- Encourages self-reflection and self-analysis of values and ethics
- Encourages the formation of women and men for others in the service of faith and the promotion of justice
- Encourages genuine participation in civic, social, cultural, and global issues
- Shows respect for the dignity and needs of individuals

RELATIONSHIP TO CURRICULUM DESIGN:

- Implements service learning plan developed in HOCS 323
- Bridges concepts of occupational justice with "lived" local or international community experiences
- Provides authentic learning experience
- Promotes advocacy for occupational justice
- Supports understanding of the value of occupation in lives and the role of culture in relation to occupations and life meaning
- Uses confluence, confrontation of ethical issues, and student self-reflection to support student growth

COURSE POLICIES:

Academic Honesty:
As integrity, honesty, and truthfulness are expected standards of ethical conduct, cheating, plagiarism and collusion will not be tolerated. At minimum, instances of plagiarism will result in a score of “0” on the assignment. As noted in the University catalogue, students found to be in violation of the Academic Honesty Policy may receive an “F” for the course and may be considered for expulsion from the University. Definitions of cheating, plagiarism, and collusion are as follows (taken from XU OT Student Handbook Spring 2014):

A. “Cheating” includes, but is not limited to:
1. Use of unauthorized assistance in taking quizzes, tests, or examinations.
2. Dependence on the aid of sources beyond those authorized by the instructor in writing papers, preparing reports, solving problems, or carrying out assignments.
3. The acquisition, without permission, of tests or other academic materials belonging to a member of the faculty or staff.
4. Fabrication or falsification of documentation or data.
5. Deception for the purpose of academic gain.

B. “Plagiarism” includes, but is not limited to:
1. The use, by paraphrase or direct quotation of the published or unpublished work of another person without full and clear acknowledgement on any course assignment.
2. The unacknowledged use of materials prepared by another person or agency engaged in the selling of term papers or other academic materials.
3. Active/intentional and/or unintentional/passive use of another's material or thoughts. See Commission on Standards and Ethics of the American Occupational Therapy Association Advisory Opinion on Plagiarism (American Occupational Therapy Association, 2000) for further definitions. See also AOTA’s Advisory Opinion for the Ethics Commission on Avoiding Plagiarism in the Electronic Age (Moody, 2011).
4. Self-plagiarism: “. . . occurs when a student submits his or her own previous work, or mixes parts of previous works, without permission from all professors involved. . . Self-plagiarism also applies to submitting the same piece of work for assignments in different classes without previous permission from both professors.” (Retrieved from http://www.bowdoin.edu/studentaffairs/academic-honesty/common-types.shtml)

C. “Collusion” includes, but is not limited to:
1. Collaboration with another person or persons for the purpose of engaging in acts which constitute academic misconduct as defined above; or
2. Conspiring with another person for the purpose of aiding, abetting or contributing in a secondary way to an act of academic misconduct committed by another person as defined above.
3. A student allowing access to his/her independent work, which is then misused by the second student, will be guilty of collusion even if the work is used without the first person’s knowledge.

Accommodations:
The goal of this class is for it to serve as an accessible and welcoming experience for all students. If you are a student with a disability who may have trouble participating or effectively demonstrating learning in this course, contact me to arrange an appointment to share your Accommodation Letters from Disability Services and to discuss your needs. Disability related information is confidential. If you have not contacted Disability Services (located in the Learning Assistance Center) to arrange accommodations, please do so by contacting Cassandra Jones, by phone at 513-745-3280, in person on the Fifth Floor of the Conaton Learning Commons, Room 514, or via e-mail at jonesc20@xavier.edu as soon as possible as accommodations are not retroactive.

Attendance:
Because this course is experiential-based and independent study in nature, group participation is essential. It is assumed all readings and assignments will be completed prior to the due date of related assignments. Online postings are expected to be thoughtful, critical, and insightful. Attendance of all group members for each designated session is imperative. Attendance will be noted and documented for review in final grade calculation. Promptness for sessions is expected, as late arrivals cause disruption to the instructor and to the group process.
Early departures are also considered disruptive. Three unexcused late arrivals or early departures will be treated as an unexcused absence. Six points will be deducted from the final grade for the second and any additional unexcused absence(s) incurred after the first missed session; unexcused absences include but are not limited to funerals outside the immediate family, vacations, and weddings. Excused absences include but are not limited to death of immediate family member, personal or dependent’s serious illness or injury, natural disasters. Documentation for excused attendance days/sessions must be received within 5 business days of the absence. Students missing a scheduled class session are responsible to obtain any handout material or information presented from their peers.

Canvas:
The course syllabus with assignment grading criteria forms will be posted to Canvas. Other items will be posted as announced throughout course duration.

Electronic Media Usage:
As a professional courtesy, all electronic devices should be turned off and stored out of sight during class. Electronic distractions and text messaging are not permitted during class. Exceptions may be approved on a case-by-case basis with prior notification; e.g., due to a family emergency it may be necessary to have a cell phone turned on vibrate during a specific class. Use of laptops during lecture/lab is permitted for class-related purposes only. Classroom activities may be recorded by a student for personal use by that student or for all students presently enrolled in the class with instructor’s permission, but may not be further copied, distributed, published or used for any other purpose.

Email Accounts:
All students are required to use their Xavier University email account. It is the responsibility of the student to check this email on a regular basis for course and Department communications.

Essential Functions:
To pass this course students must meet all expectations, with or without LAC generated and instructor-approved accommodations, that might arise in this class as identified on the Department of Occupational Therapy Essential Functions document. Please see the Department of Occupational Therapy website for the most recent updates to this document. Additionally, each service learning site may require additional and other essential functions.

Grade Discrepancy:
After verbal discussion with instructor to obtain reasoning for initial grade, any student who feels the grade received from the class instructor is in error (rather than due to difference of opinion) may request the grade be reconsidered. To do so, a written statement of 150-500 words in length regarding the area of discrepancy needs to be submitted to the course instructor. Such a statement needs to include documented and sound justification including referenced material. All requests must be received within five business days of assignment return and resolved no later than the last class day of the semester. Verbal requests for change of grade consideration will not be considered. If a re-grade is approved, the grade of the re-grade will stand whether higher or lower than the original grade.

Grade Rounding Up:
Grades for assignments and exams will be calculated out three decimal points and trimmed to two (e.g. 88.676 will become 88.67). Upon calculation of the final score, all grade percentages will be weighted as indicated and added together. At that time, and only at that time, grades will be rounded up to the nearest whole number (e.g. 92.56% will be rounded to 93%; 84.51 will be rounded to 85%). A grade lower than 0.5 of a percentage point will not be rounded up e.g. 92.49% will not be rounded up. In such a case the final percentage grade will be 92%.

On-line Social Networking:
On-line social networking (e.g., Face book, MySpace, Twitter, blogs, etc.) must be considered public information and postings containing certain information are illegal. Violations may expose the offender to criminal and civil liability. Avoid disclosing any HIPAA- or academic- protected information regarding others. Keep all postings and photographs professional; and, avoid inflammatory or unflattering information on yours or another’s site. Make

Professional Behavior:
Professional behavior is expected within each session as well as when communicating and interacting with outside and related parties. Students are expected to attend each session; arrive on time (i.e. be seated with needed materials available at session start); actively participate in discussions; avoid side conversations; stay in the room the entire session; and, accept responsibility for their actions. Community interactions are expected accordingly. Additionally, the wearing of conservative attire is expected in-country; business casual attire is expected respectfully in the presence of guest speakers and/or attendance at community events.

Timely Submission of Assignments:
Students are expected to complete assignments in a timely manner. Questions pertaining to pending assignments will be posed latest 24 hrs in advance of the due date. Assignments are due on the date specified and must be turned in by midnight of that day unless prior arrangements and approval have been made with the instructor that resulted in modifying the due dates for a specific student. Late assignments will result in an automatic reduction of ten percentage points for each day late. Assignments emailed to instructor are considered received only upon instructor confirming receipt which must be documented prior to due date/time.

DESCRIPTION OF ASSIGNMENTS:

1. Related Readings:
As an individual, complete the readings assigned to you by you from HOCS 323 Occupational Justice I. For each article provide a one-half page summary of the content, compare and contrast the article’s main points relative to your anticipated service and learning experience, and relate to one occupational justice theory component. End by discussing “take-home” points (points to remember the rest of your career) from the reading w/ accompanying rationale. Limit 2-3 pages each. Include reference page per APA style for each including the DOI (or URL); if neither DOI nor URL is available, provide a hard copy. See grading criteria. Note: If the readings and assignment were not completed prior, simply, compare and contrast the article’s main points relative to your actual vs. anticipated service and learning experience.

2. Class Participation and Professional Attire:
Each student is expected to contribute to the in-country processing times and activities in a way that is meaningful, noticeable, and measurable. Because there are only several in-country processing opportunities and the reunion party, planned participation will be critical. The final grade will be determined by the instructor with consideration of student input. Note: points will be awarded solely on the above-identified instances due to the important role verbal participation plays in occupational therapy. At final each student will complete a self-report including a rubric score (see grading criteria below) with accompanying evidence (e.g., dated notation of quantity/quality using index card or other similar means) and a paragraph critique of his/her class contributions to date. The final grade will be determined by the instructor with consideration of student input.

Professional attire expectations are outlined in the grading rubric.

3. Advocacy Lab Check-Out:
As an individual, complete a Lab Check-Out form following the directions provided. Limit 3-4-pages. Include citations as requested (see check-out form).

4. Evaluation of Process and Learning- Midterm Review:
As an individual post to Canvas what has been learned to date relative to one self-identified course objective. Include one cited reference or reading. Comment to two other postings. See grading criteria.

5. Keeping the Experience Alive:
As a group generate a list of 30 numbered and realistic ways to keep your service learning experience alive. Add a 1-3 sentence explanation for each item. List may be categorical (e.g., personal, professional; daily, weekly, annually; short term, long term; thinking/acting globally, thinking/acting locally) or noncategorical in nature. Highlight (with a highlighting marker/function) the top 3 most salient ways. End with a one-page critique of occupational therapy’s response to injustice. See grading criteria.

6. Dissemination/Advocacy Article:
As a group identify an approved newspaper, newsletter, journal for whom the audience will appreciate the process and/or outcomes of your service learning project. Write a short article (2 paragraphs to 2 pages) featuring and highlighting your work toward promoting occupational justice. It can feature the process, outcomes, and/or tell a “story” as an example. Its nature can be more informative (dissemination about what you have done) or more activist (advocacy in giving your population a voice). Identify the address (web or postal) and person/department to which submission is appropriate. Obtain prior approval for assignment and/or submission to the identified source. See grading criteria.

7. Evaluation of Process and Learning- Final Essay:
During the designated final exam time, an essay question and the accompanying grading criteria will be presented. Any and all related course material can be brought to the session and accessed throughout the writing process. In addition to reflection on the service that was provided and the learning that occurred, citing of several references will be required. A pre-prepared reference page may be brought to the exam and used throughout. Essay length is limited to 3-4 pages.

8. Social Justice Event:
As an individual attend one campus events (e.g., one sponsored by E/RS, the Brueggeman Center, Office of Interfaith Community Engagement, Mission and Identity, or another as approved by instructor). Write a one-page reflection discussing the import of 2-3 “take-home points” relative to course content. Include one citation.

9. Presentation of Service Learning Experience:
As a group give a 10-minute presentation about what was accomplished and what was learned from engagement in the service learning experience; dedicate an additional 5 minutes for questions/answers and/or discussion. The presentation will be given along with the end of semester presentations of the rest of the class. Note: as an alternative any approved group may opt to create a 2-5 minute video; see course instructor to plan and execute. See grading criteria.
COURSE SCHEDULE: Please note schedule is subject to change as needed &/or per request approved given ≥ 24 hrs. notice.

Related Readings

As an individual, complete the readings assigned to you by you from HOCS 323 Occupational Justice I. For each article provide a one-half page summary of the content, compare and contrast the article’s main points relative to your service and learning experience, and relate to one occupational justice theory component. End by discussing “take-home” points (points to remember the rest of your career) from the reading w/ accompanying rationale. Limit 2-3 pages each. Include reference page per APA style for each including the DOI (or URL); if neither DOI nor URL is available, provide a hard copy. See grading criteria. Note: If the readings and assignment were not completed prior, simply, compare and contrast the article’s main points relative to your actual vs. anticipated service and learning experience. If sending electronically, include last name as header.

Class Participation and Professional Attire

Each student is expected to contribute to the in-country processing times and activities in a way that is meaningful, noticeable, and measurable. Because there are only several in-country processing opportunities and the reunion party, planned participation will be critical. The final grade will be determined by the instructor with consideration of student input. Note: points will be awarded solely on the above-identified instances due to the important role verbal participation plays in occupational therapy. At final each student will complete a self-report including a rubric score (see grading criteria below) with accompanying evidence (e.g., dated notation of quantity/quality using index card or other similar means) and a paragraph critique of his/her class contributions to date. The final grade will be determined by the instructor with consideration of student input.

Professional attire expectations are outlined below.

Critique of class participation (one paragraph):
DEPARTMENT OF OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY

HOCS 405 Occupational Justice II
Grading Criteria
Summer 2017

Advocacy Lab Check-Out (possible points earned are in parentheses) (limit 3-4 pages)

Purpose of Lab: To promote engagement in P/ADLs at the national level
To advocate for populations via AOTA’s Legislative Forum

Directions: Go to AOTA’s homepage, click on AOTA’s Legislative Action Center; complete questions below.

1. What is your home town zipcode? (2) ______________

2. Identify two of your federal legislators (4) ______________________ ______________________

3. Select 2 current issues and take action (or explain why you could not take action). Identify the issue, the population most impacted; describe the issue; state the action you took (the latter 2 ea in 1 sentence):

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Issue: (2)</th>
<th>Population: (2)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Description: (2)</td>
<td>Population: (2)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Action taken: (2)</td>
<td>Description: (2)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Action taken: (2)</td>
<td>Action taken: (2)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

4. Go to the websites of 2 of your federal legislators. Spend 5-10 minutes on each site (yes, time yourself). What did you learn (2-3 sentences)? How does that relate to your service learning population (2-3 sentences)? How does that relate to occupational justice (OJ) theory (3-5 sentences)?

5. Summarize, in 1 paragraph, a 1-page “Capital Briefing” from OT Practice. Add a 2nd paragraph stating what specific advocacy action an occupational therapist might take on the issue (hint: including the word advocacy alone is not sufficient; instead, describe a specific advocacy action). Attach article (10).

6. What is a “social occupational therapist” (1 paragraph). Should there be a social occupational therapist or should all occupational therapists assume that role (another paragraph)? What might such an occupational therapist ‘do’ (third paragraph)? Provide 2 references to support your argument (15).

7. What about Kronenberg’s view of politics resonates with you (1 paragraph)? Why (second paragraph)? Support your view by relating to, and citing specifically, his 2006 article in AJOT (10).

8. Above is formatted & referenced using APA style including correct GSP & single-spacing within & double-spacing between sections; reference page is included; PDF of Capital Briefing is attached; Briefing date is within last 6 months (10).

How do you rate this activity as a way to learn about P/ADLs and advocacy action? (1)
Not Helpful 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 Helpful

How likely are you to return to AOTA’s Legislative Action Center? (1)
Not Likely 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 Likely

As a group generate a list of 30 numbered and realistic ways to keep your service learning experience alive. Add a 1-3 sentence explanation for each item. List may be categorical (e.g., personal, professional; daily, weekly, annually; short term, long term; thinking/acting globally, thinking/acting locally) or noncategorical in nature. Highlight (with a highlighting marker) the top 3 most salient ways. End with a one-page critique of occupational therapy’s response to injustice. See grading criteria.

Name:________________________________ Date________________

1. 30 realistic items are included ______ (30)

2. 1-3 sentence explanation for each is included ______ (30)

3. Items appear reflective and realistic for potential individual &/or immediate response ______ (07)

4. The 3 most salient items are highlighted (literally with a highlight pen or feature; no further comment is needed) ______ (03)

5. Critique occupational therapy’s response, as a profession, to injustice using a pADL &/or PADL lens (hint: a critique might address to what degree are we doing enough?). Include references to provide backing for your critique.
   - Include 2 different points (one pADL and one PADL) each with a different citation from a reference including page number (may cite from required readings)
   - Provide citation for reference using APA style
   - Limit to one page ______ (30)
