

Xavier STEM in London

Spring Semester 2021

Let London be your Classroom

The Xavier STEM in London Program will make it possible for you to take the lecture components of Organic Chemistry II and College Physics II in London along with two elective courses offered by Arcadia University. You can take full advantage of living and learning in central London with courses, excursions and activities that focus on the history, politics and culture of a multicultural mega-city. When you return to Xavier's campus in May, you will complete the labs for your Chemistry and Physics during the intersession.

Experience the real London through events, excursions and meeting the locals.

Take a cycling tour of London, explore Hampton Court Palace or enjoy a walking tour taking in local landmarks and historical sites. All events are offered at subsidized rates and subject to change.

Enjoy free tours of street art in East London, the 2012 Olympic site or John Keats house, led by Arcadia London staff.

Get to know other students during residence life events such as visiting one of London's many markets or British themed movie nights.
