Semester in Peru

• This semester long experience will broaden student’s perspective of language, culture, and societal structures through language immersion, integrated classes, homestays, visits to social NGOs, and cultural excursions. UARM, a fellow Jesuit university, is known as one of the most multi-culturally integrated universities in Peru. Its location in the country’s capital, Lima, provides students the opportunity to experience, reflect, and engage in cultural, economic, and social diversity.
Faculty-led Programs

• Faculty-led programs offer the opportunity to study abroad with a Xavier faculty member. Students typically earn 3 to 9 credit hours, and the programs run during summer, spring, and winter breaks. Program duration is anywhere between 10-days and six-weeks long. Programs are offered in a variety of disciplines.

Earning Credit

• You will receive credit for study abroad at Xavier
  • Major, minor, core, elective, or even “extra” free electives
• Your academic advisor will work with you to determine how classes taken abroad count for your degree plan
• You must be full-time, which means you earn a full semester of credits for Fall or Spring programs
• Summer programs do not require full-time enrollment
Funding

• All of Xavier University’s semester programs are offered to students at the same rate as what they would pay for a semester at Xavier. This means that students are billed tuition and fees like any other semester at Xavier, and Xavier scholarships, Federal aid, and outside scholarships apply to semester-long abroad experience.
