THINK OUTSIDE OF CAMPUS
WHY STUDY ABROAD?
Xavier makes it possible for students to have an international study abroad experience in over 30 locations by offering a variety of affordable options—from traditional semester and year-long programs to short-term faculty-led experiences.

The best part? Semester programs are covered by your Xavier tuition. Plus scholarships and financial aid are available to help cover additional costs.

HIGHLIGHTS

| 80+ Semester programs available with Xavier tuition |
| 400+ Students study abroad every year |

Study at Jesuit partner programs.

TYPES OF STUDY ABROAD

Xavier’s Jesuit tradition of academic excellence encourages students to learn through study or immersion in another country and culture. The Center for International Education (CIE) helps students find the program that’s right for them.

SEMESTER PROGRAMS
Xavier offers over 80 programs, including:
- Xavier-sponsored programs with other American organizations and Jesuit schools in over 30 countries.
- Direct exchange programs at a partner university such as Sophia University in Tokyo and the Universidad Loyola Andalucia in Sevilla, Spain.
- Xavier’s semester program in Peru. Study at the Universidad Antonio Ruiz de Montoya, a Jesuit University in Lima. Live with host families and connect with Peruvian students through service activities, language partners and a buddy program.

FACULTY-LED PROGRAMS
Xavier offers a variety of short-term, faculty-led study abroad programs, including:
- Faculty-led programs to 15 locales such as Israel, El Salvador and Ireland. Program length ranges from 10 days to six weeks during summer, spring and winter breaks.
- Earn between 3 and 12 credit hours depending on the program.
- Many programs have social justice, service, and internship or research opportunities.

FINANCIAL AID AND SCHOLARSHIPS

There are several sources of financial aid to help fund study abroad, including various scholarships and fellowships offered by Xavier and global scholarship organizations. Advisors in the Center for International Education work with students to complete competitive scholarship applications. Funding options include:
- Semester programs covered by Xavier tuition.
- Scholarships for semester and short-term programs.
- A service-learning community engaged scholarship.
- Scholarships and grants for Pell-eligible students.
- Outside scholarships that may also apply.

STUDENTS OF ANY MAJOR CAN STUDY ABROAD

Study abroad is offered year-round, making it possible for all students to participate. The CIE’s study abroad staff and students’ academic advisors can help determine which program is the best fit for their schedule and major.

Pre-med and other Pre-Professional Health students should consult with the Pre-Professional Health Advising Office about their interest in study abroad.

STUDY ABROAD IS ACCESSIBLE

Xavier University’s semester study abroad programs cost about the same as a semester on campus. Students who enroll in a Xavier study abroad program are billed their normal Xavier tuition and may also use their normal aid package. Students’ federal financial aid is sometimes transferable for short-term, faculty-led programs.
